Most of us spend more than half our waking hours at work. A workplace that encourages healthy habits can reduce the risk of heart disease and stroke — the world’s leading cause of death. Saying no to tobacco, eating a healthy diet and being physically active are important steps towards greater productivity and longer life. Find out what works for you. Develop your own plan to work with heart at www.worldheartday.org