Dana 25. rujna 2009. godine na terasi karlovačke Turističko-ugostiteljske škole obilježen je Svjetski dan srca. Organizatori su bili Opća bolnica Karlovac, Zavod za javno zdravstvo Karlovačke županije i Medicinska škola Karlovac, a pokrovitelj akcije je bila Karlovačka županija. Mjerio se arterijski tlak, glukoza i kolesterol u krvi, prema SCORE tablicama se procjenjivao 10 godišnji rizik za kardiovaskularnu smrt, a davali su se i liječnički savjeti.

S obzirom da je u centru pažnje ove godine bilo radno aktivno stanovništvo, tijekom najave akcije posebno su bili pozvani djelatnici iz svih okolnih radnih zajednica, a naravno dobrodošli su bili i svi ostali zainteresirani građani. Akcija je protekla vrlo uspješno, navedena mjerenja su provedena kod oko 150 ljudi, a cijeli je događaj bio i kvalitetno medijski popraćen.

On 25th September 2009 the World Heart Day was celebrated on the terrace of the Secondary School for Tourist Management and Catering in Karlovac. It was organized by the Karlovac General Hospital, Public Health Institute of the County of Karlovac and Secondary School of Medicine in Karlovac, whereas the action was sponsored by the County of Karlovac. Blood pressure, glucose and cholesterol in blood were measured and 10-year risk of cardiovascular death was evaluated according to SCORE tables followed by physicians' advices.

Since the active employed citizens were focused, during the announcement of this action the employees from all surrounding working communities were especially invited, and of course all other interested citizens were welcome. The action was very successful, the above-mentioned measurements were conducted with around 150 people, and the whole event was well presented in media.
